

OXFORD TRANSNATIONAL AND GLOBAL HISTORY SEMINAR (TGHS)

Hilary Term 2019 Term Card

‘SCALING GLOBAL HISTORY’

Tuesdays 5pm - 6.30pm (refreshments from 4.45pm)
Butler Room, Nuffield College

Week 1 (Tuesday 15 January 2019)

‘Indigenous Survival: A History of Seminoles in the American Southeast and Greater Caribbean’

Dr. Mandy Izadi, University of Oxford (St Edmund Hall)

Week 3 (Tuesday 29th January 2019)

The Jan-Georg Deutsch Debate

“The Macro Scale of Global History Obscures More Than It Illuminates.”

Debating the Motion:

Professor James Belich, University of Oxford (Balliol College)

Dr. Stephen Tuffnell, University of Oxford (St Peter’s College)

Week 4 (Tuesday 5th February 2019)

12:30pm-2pm at the Rothermere American Institute

A Special Event held in collaboration with the American History Seminar

‘Archiving Globalization of the United States, 1815-1861: Who Was ‘Global’ and Who Was Not’

Professor Konstantin Dierks, Indiana University

Week 5 (Tuesday 12 February 2019)

‘Anglo-Indian Diplomacy in the Seventeenth-Century: A History in Documents’

Dr. Guido van Meersbergen, University of Warwick

Week 7 (Tuesday 26 February 2019)

‘Towards the Anthropocene: State-formation and Environment in the Global Middle Ages’

Dr. Amanda Power, University of Oxford (St Catherine’s College)